BuildaQuote

Three massive UK industries. Still running on spreadsheets.

UK Lettings

The Renters' Rights Act 2025 introduced 15+ new obligations overnight. 17,000+ agencies have no affordable compliance tool. Solicitors charge £200–£400/hr.

UK Recruitment

40,000+ agencies still writing JDs by hand, manually screening CVs, and crafting outreach from scratch. AI-powered competitors are already pulling ahead.

UK Trades & Construction

1M+ tradespeople have no professional quoting, contracting, or compliance tool. The £150B sector is the last to be digitised — and nobody has built for it yet.

One AI studio. Four vertical SaaS products.

We don't build generic AI tools. We build sector-specific, compliance-driven SaaS that gives SMEs enterprise-grade capability at a fraction of the cost.

Target: £1M ARR across portfolio within 18 months of investment → Series A ready

Legislation. AI maturity. Market gaps.

All aligning in 2026.

Renters' Rights Act 2025

Section 21 abolished. 15+ new obligations. Every UK letting agent needs compliance support — now. TenurAI is timed perfectly.

AI is Production-Ready

LLM quality is now sufficient for legally-informed drafting, CV screening, and compliance Q&A. The technology window is open.

SMEs Priced Out

Solicitors charge £200-400/hr. Enterprise HR software costs thousands. The SME gap is wide open and growing.

Construction Lagging

The £150B trades sector is the last major UK industry without AI tooling. First-mover advantage is still available.

Global Replication

UK as proof-of-concept. Rental compliance, recruitment tooling, and trades quoting are universal problems. AU, US, CA next.

Studio Efficiency

Shared infrastructure means each new product is cheaper to build. Margin improves with every launch. Value compounds.

12 months to meaningful MRR.

18–24 months to Series A.
